

Pronoun-
Antecedent
Agreement with subject-verb
agreement

Subject Pronouns Subject or Subject Complement
Singular	Plural
I	We
You	You
He, She, It	They
Who
use for the SUBJECT or following a Linking Verb

Objective Pronouns Direct or Indirect Object, Object of the Prep
Singular	Plural
Me	Us
You	You
Him, Her, It	Them
Whom
use following an Action Verb or following a Preposition

	What's the Subject? S or P?	What's the Verb? S or P?	What's the Pronoun? S or P?	Agree? ✓ or ✗
1. One of the boys have tears in their eyes.
2. Somebody is leaving their books on the counter.
3. A student who is wise will see an advisor if they have issues.
4. Any injured athlete need to see a trainer as soon as they are injured.
5. Someone is disappointed by his or her grade on the exam.
6. Everyone have his or her own way of studying.
7. Teachers are responsible for providing their students with accurate grades.
8. Someone has blocked the driveway with their car.
9. Everybody receives their ACT scores in the mail.
10. Each woman does their best to take care of their health.

Highlight the correct options.

- | | |
|---|---|
| 11. Neither Mary nor Laura (has, have) turned in (her, their) report. | 18. George wants to go into politics because (it, they) (excite, excites) him. |
| 12. Each of the boys (take, takes) care of (his, their) own room. | 19. Everyone (is, are) in (his, their) seat before the curtain goes up. |
| 13. Neither Tom nor Jim (give, gives) (his, their) report today. | 20. Every class officer (do, does) (her, their) best. |
| 14. Anyone can join our group if (he or she, they) (is, are) really interested. | 21. Either Bill or Tony (lend, lends) money to (his, their) friends. |
| 15. The team (play, plays) (its, their) best when it's hot out. | 22. Some of the team (is, are) wearing (his, their) new helmets. |
| 16. Each of us (is, are) prepared to give (his, their) speech on Thursday | 23. Some of the vanilla (has, have) lost (its, their) flavor. |
| 17. Everyone (do, does) (his, their) best work when they love the subject. | 24. When I asked my teacher why I failed, he said that (you, I) (hasn't, haven't) studied enough. |
| | 25. Many of us (love, loves) the movies, but (you, we) seldom have time to go to them. |